Price Hays come down from Kansas City to rest up. He is getting it by busting John Stephenson's bronce at John's ranch south of town.

Brunswick-Huntsville Meet

Last Friday the Huntsville High School engaged the B. H. S. on the athletic grounds at Brunswick.

Without going into details, the B. H. S. boys literally "put it all over" H. H. S. Several of the K. H. S. team witnessed the events, and compliment the Brunswickers highly on their improvement in every particular.

The surprise of the day was Lawrence Snavely's sprinting. He seems to have turbine bellows and game rooster legs, for after loafing four laps and supposing from the way he felt that he had not yet made half of the mile in the mile event, he inquired of bystanders, and learning that there was but one more lap, he concluded not to wait for the others and walked on out, something less than a quarter ahead of the next ones to him.

There is also some prairie frog stock in the B. H. S. jumpers as well as Sandow sinews in the heavy weights. It is sincerely to be hoped that their next engagement will not wholly discourage them, for they are a fine lot of young athletes.

They meet K. H. S. aggregation next at Keytesville, May 17.

Goetze at Moberly

The Goetze Concert at Moberly last Friday afternoon and night is mentioned as being a rare musical entertainment. It was a combination of exercises by the graduates of Goetze's conservatory and high class vocal and instrumental numbers by many distinguished musicians from other cities.

Prof. J. C. Lilly delivered the diplomas, congratulating and encouraging the recipients thereof. The University Orchestra from Columbia was more than pleasing in each of its numbers, and Miss Lorine Moore of Salisbury, a graduate, was spoken of as charming in her violin selections from Tannhauser and Chopin.

The Moberly Monitor says "The Valse D Concert Op. 3. Wieniawski, was faultlessly rendered by Mrs. Maude Leftwich of Keytesville" and "Miss Annette Murphy, a contralto of promise from Kansas City, was pleasing in her vocal rendering of Del Riegos," "O Dry Those Tears" and Goetze's serenade and Asthore, from Trotter."

Music lovers from this city and Salisbury as well as all along the Wabash, attended, this, said to be one of the best commencements held by the popular teacher and composer.

Miss Edythe Fetzter closed one of the most successful schools last Friday ever taught at the Allega district. As a testimonial of appreciation of patrons and pupils, a regular indoor and lawn picnic was put on. Every delicacy known to the good cooks in that neighborhood was brot and spread in profusion and everybody who could get there enjoyed the occasion. As a testimonial of the esteem in which she is held, the directors employed her for another term the moment this one ended. This will be a big disappointment to two or three other districts which expected to engage Miss Fetzter for the next year. Her services are in demand at larger schools, and we congratulate the Allega district on securing such a teacher and Miss Fetzter for being so much desired.

Rev. J. E. Wolfe, the popular young pastor of the Christian Church here for several years, has resigned and will become the pastor at Huntsville. We regret losing him from among us.

Hayward-Hershey

At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hershey 2 miles north of this city at 2 p. m. Wednesday May 1 1912, Rev. Jas. T. Budd of Prairie Hill, pastor of the M. E. church south of that town united the fortunes of John N. Hayward and Ila M. Hershey in wedlock.

Only relatives of the contracting parties with a few intimate friends were present, and after the ceremony the happy couple boarded the Wabash train for their home on a splendid farm near Dalton, where a reception awaited them, the day to be concluded with a big dinner and the evening with other festivities.

Mrs. John N. Hayward is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lou Hershey noted for her fine appearance, thoroughly sociable disposition and qualities as a housekeeper and cook. In this particular Mrs. Ila Hayward has no superiors and very few equals.

John Hayward is the eldest son of Joe P. Hayward who is one of our big retired farmers. John is a native of the County, a hustler and genial and popular. He owns two fine farms, but will make their home on the larger one near Dalton.

The Courier extends congratulations and best wishes.

Fox Hunt

The elusive red fox has camped in force in the Kit Tisdale neighborhood west of this city. The outlook for spring chicken and roast pig is vanishing at the rate of a thousand to the fox, and it is quite certain there are a million foxes in the neighborhood. The clergy and court house contingent rose up in wrath at the prospective deprivation and went on the war path in sheer desperation Wednesday. Calling on Si Payton of Shannondale to come with his reliable pack of fox exterminators, the court house and kennels emptied themselves early in the morning and set out for the bluffs. In no time it looked like a Kansas rabbit hunt. Each houn picked out a fox and kept him moving. No better drilled army of dogs ever entered a chase, but no better skirmish line of foxes deployed to mislead an enemy. Clerk Wright, Recorder Wayland and Treasurer Shannon were stumped (on the highest ones they could find) watching foxes crossing, double crossing and boot legging trails. A houn would get his victim tired—a new fox would cross just ahead and entertain him while the weary reynard rested. At 1 a. m. the foxes all went in holes and to bed and the hunters and houns likewise. How many young chickens and pigs will be claimed as toll for this disturbance, remains to be calculated later on.

Claude Knowles bound

over to Circuit Court

Prosecuting Attorney Rucker appeared before Justice Mason at Salisbury Wednesday in the case of the State vs. Claude Knowles, charged with the attempt to rape Mrs. Earnest Crawford near Shannondale and showed cause why defendant should be held for trial before the Circuit Court.

The Justice found sufficient evidence on which to hold the accused, and bound him over to the September term of Circuit Court at Salisbury, fixing bond at $2500, which was given.

Miss Helen White of Glasgow, niece of Mrs. L. E. Cook, closed a very successful term of school at Westville this week and spent a couple of days with her aunt on her way home. She will teach near Rothville the coming term.

Obituaries

Another good woman has passed to the great beyond. Elizabeth Francis Feaker, who was born near Brunswick, Mo. Dec. 26 1857, was married to J. F. Doll, of this county Feb. 1 1877, and died at the family home six miles southeast of Rothville, Apr. 27, 1912. One brother and one sister had preceeded her to the spirit world and her beloved husband was taken from her by death nearly eleven years ago.

There remains to mourn her departure two brothers and two sisters, namely: E. P. Feaker, of Portland, Ore., J. V. Feaker, of Delia Kas., Mrs. Laura Tatsch, of Newhall and Mrs. Malinda Delaney, of Marceline. Also her seven children "rise up and call her blessed," they are Mrs. T. I. Enyart, of Indian Grove, Mrs. J. W. Rice and H. F. Doll of Marceline, O. F. and W. V. Doll and Misses Nolia and Lizzie Doll of the old home farm.

Mrs. Doll was for many years a devoted and faithful member of the Presbyterian church. For a long time a sufferer from ill health, she was patient and uncomplaining and her end was peace.

The funeral was preached by Rev. Franc Mitchell in the Baptist church in Rothville, and the interment was in the Rothville cemetery.

Wm. A. Dawkins, 70 years old, well known here and extensive land owner and farmer in the north east part of the county, died of a second stroke of paralysis at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. B. Matlock at College Mound, Thursday, April 25. Bill Dawkins was a character of much interest. He was active in business and politics until a few years ago, and had considerable interests to look after in this section. Interment at Eldad Friday afternoon.

Odd Fellows Entertained.

The Odd Fellows lodge in this city was itvited by the lodge of Moberly to attend their County meeting held Tuesday and Tuesday night last, and the following representatives of the lodge here availed themselves of the opportunity for instruction and enjoyment and went to Moberly Tuesday afternoon: M. S. Walther, Milt Bennett, J. C. Jenkins, Wm. Burns, Chas. Parker, Ernest Gardner, J. T. Cooley and John Closson and about 25 others from here and over the county, whose names we failed to get.

This is the second turn-out of Odd Fellows from this place to Moberly entertainments by their brethern, and many who have been unable, so far, to attend, are somewhat mystified concerning the irresistible attraction, as their conjectures have been dispelled by the appearance on their return of all who have attended. Suffice it to say that all those whom we have met who have been entertained by the Moberly Odd Fellows, are loud in their praise of the hospitality and true brotherliness displayed on each occasion.

Willie's Question

"Pa, was Job a doctor?"
"Not that I know of."
"Then why do people have so much to say about the patients of Job?"—Boston Transcript.

Livingston county is to have a court house at last. Each time the proposition has been submitted heretofore, the country people would vote it down because Chillicothe would not consent to the building being erected in Elm Park. This time the city vote was about 16 to 1 in favor of the Park site. Local option will be voted on next Tuesday.

Mr. L. E. Tuley and H. James of Carrollton were in town yesterday in the interest of Jas. A. Houchin for Gov. These gentlemen say the farming element of the Democratic party seems considerably interested in the election of Mr. Houchin. Arrangements will be made for Mr. Houchin to address the people here in the near future.
